Redistricting Shakes Walsh But Pleases East Countyites

By Dick Sims
SAN DIEGO (CNA) — It was a choice between Jim Bear and Jack Walsh and Bear won. Walsh has lost all but a small portion of the 1st Supervisorial District at the hands of a three to two vote of the Board of Supervisors on Thursday. While Walsh was busy running for mayor of San Diego, Bear was busy getting support for his redistricting plan, known as Plan 13. This support he gained in good measure from South Bay officials. Supervisor Harry Scheidle got jolted around a good deal too, losing Lemon Grove and Spring Valley from his 3rd District and gaining large portions of Walsh's district.

There were two known plans before the board to equalize the population after the 1970 census. These were known as Plan 2 and Plan 7. Then engineer Larry Hirsch put Plan 13 on the board.

It gives Walsh Point Loma and South Bay, including Coronado, National City, Chula Vista, San Ysidro, and Imperial Beach, and an obviously tough race for election in 1972, if he runs, as a San Diegan against a South Bay candidate.

But Plan 7 would have done the same thing to Bear, leaving him only a small portion of San Diego where he won election.

Final action is still to be taken in the passage of the legal resolution establishing the new districts and this has been set for Sept. 14.

Walsh was angry at the action. He said, "In my 7 1/2 years of public service, I have never seen such a mockery of the interests of the people. I am appalled at the people who done it."

Boney retorted, "We have finally approved a redistricting that meets with the approval of the people instead of the political bodies."

Plan 13 creates an East County, South Bay and North County district, plus two city districts.

East County, Boney's 2nd District, will pick up Santee and Lakeside from William A. Craven's 5th District and Lemon Grove and Spring Valley from Scheidle and have the cities of El Cajon and La Mesa as before. Mayors Robert Helland of La Mesa and James Snapp of El Cajon said they would be happy to accept either plan to obtain a Heartland district.

The five supervisors run by districts, but once elected are equally responsible for the total county business.

It would appear that the main interest in where the district lines are drawn is among incumbents and prospective candidates.

Sectional interests with common problems were mentioned many times during the meeting and could have been largely solved by either Plan Seven or Plan 13.

Over $1,200 In Property Stolen

Robert J. Poland, of 7231 San Pasqual, Lemon Grove, was the victim of a $1,200 burglary last week, while he and his family were spending the weekend in Mexico.

The burglary, which was not discovered until last Monday morning, occurred sometime between Friday night and Monday.

Unknown suspects apparently removed the screen from a rear bathroom window at the residence, broke the glass, and entered the home, ransacking several rooms.

Missing items included a color television set valued at $300, a black-and-white set valued at $250, a $22 AM/FM radio, a $69 marine band radio, a $20 clock radio, a $10 clock radio which was not in working order, a silver tip mink stole, white in color, valued at $400, a typewriter and stand valued at $105.

Ceremony Tuesday For New Volkswagen Agency

Lemon Grove's new auto dealership, John Factor's Volkswagen agency, will be on the way to realization Tuesday when ground-breaking ceremonies will be held at the Broadway-College Grove off-ramp Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Attending the ceremony will be Laura Bolieu, who is Miss Lemon Grove, Robert Russell, president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce; five Volkswagen Pacific vice presidents; John Factor; Paul Iacono, who will construct the facility, and several other community leaders. The public is also invited.

Refreshments will be served immediately after the ceremony, Factor said.

The agency will open near the first of the year, with a complete sales and service facility, employing 70 people.

"We expect to sell 1,000 units the first year," Factor said. Comparable dealerships in comparable communities have equalled or exceeded that," he said.

When completed and stocked, the dealership will represent an investment of $1,100,000, Factor said.

Marijuana Field Discovered On Mount Miguel

Sheriff's deputies were seeking warrants Tuesday for two suspects in connection with a crop of marijuana discovered Saturday on Mt. Miguel, south of Highway 94 by border patrolmen searching for illegal aliens.

The illegal plants, all in neat rows, and some as high as ten feet, were discovered by border patrolmen in knee-high brush.

Border patrolmen notified the Sheriff's Department, and narcotics agents and deputies were sent to the scene to begin a watch for the growers.

Reports indicated that two persons were observed walking up the hill toward the plants Sunday evening. They were not apprehended.

The surveillance was resumed Monday afternoon, and when deputies arrived, 12 of the plants had been taken from the field. Deputies followed footprints down the hill to a residence about half a mile away, where 12 plants were discovered.

In all, 18 plants were recovered, averaging about eight feet in height. The contraband, when cut and dried, would have been worth about $1,000 on the illegal market.

THE CALIFORNIANS, a singing group from First Baptist Church of Lemon Grove, are currently appearing on the network television program, "CBS Newcomers", Monday nights at 10 p.m., Channel 8. They will present two sacred concerts at the local church Sunday, at 5:30 and 7:15 p.m.

Water Tax Rate Stays At 17 Cents

The Board of Directors of the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California today voted to maintain the present property tax rate of 17 cents for each $100 of assessed valuation for the 1971-72 fiscal year.

The decision marks the third straight year the district has kept the tax rate at 17 cents. It steadily reduced its tax rate from a high of 50 cents in 1945-46 to a low of 14 cents in 1962-63. The 14-cent rate was maintained until 1968-69 when it was increased to 16 cents. Two years ago the rate was raised to the present 17 cents.

The District's budget this year is $192,014,000, compared to $193,624,000 for 1970-71. The decrease reflects smaller expenditures for construction of water distribution facilities as the District nears completion of its billion-dollar expansion program to distribute Northern California water starting next year.

The district has contracted with the state for ultimate delivery of 2,011,500 acre-feet of water annually — or nearly two billion gallons a day.

Grove Youth Draws Notice As Playwright From N.Y. Times

A Lemon Grove youth is attracting considerable attention in New York as a playwright. He is Dennis Anderson who attended Golden Avenue elementary school, Palm Junior High, and was graduated with honors from Mt. Miguel High School in 1965.

He is the grandson of Richard Yates who has lived in Lemon Grove for 16 years and now resides at 7872 North ave. Dennis Anderson showed playwright interest when he was attending San Diego State from which he was graduated with honors. At State, he wrote a play which was produced by a theatre group there. While attending State he served as manager and ticket seller at the Old Globe Theatre. Now he is finishing his master's degree at Queens College, New York.

A few weeks ago the NEW YORK TIMES carried a feature article, spread over two pages, in which Dennis Anderson and other playwrights were discussed.

The story tells about the William Flanagan Center for Creative Persons — the Stable for short — at Montauk, L.I.

Johnston's Retirement Luncheon Cancelled

Sheriff's Country Deputy Hal Johnston, who is retiring from 18 years of service, will not be able to attend his retirement luncheon party Friday.

As a consequence, the party which was scheduled at Pal's Cafe, has been cancelled.

Johnston, 69, who patrolled and guarded the Lemon Grove area for all those years, reported Monday that his health would not permit him to participate.

The retirement ceremony had been sponsored by the L.G. Chamber of Commerce and a plaque noting the service he rendered was to have been presented by the chamber at the luncheon. It will now be presented privately by Chamber of Commerce President Robert Russell and by Sgt. Swede Larson, officer in charge of the Sheriff's Department's Lemon Grove office.

More than 25 reservations had been made, mostly by sheriff's deputies. Attendance maximum had been set at 50.

Prior to Johnston's announcement that he would not be able to attend the affair, the Chamber of Commerce had sent letters to its members inviting them to attend.

Johnston was employed by the chamber for several years to check business locations. During his service in the Lemon Grove area, Johnston was responsible for more than 100 apprehensions.

'Satisfaction' Is Basis For Letters-to-the Editor

A Lemon Grove woman is gaining a reputation as a "letters-to-the-editor" writer.

The woman, the mother of two youngsters, is Mrs. Bud E. Graeme, of 1734 El Prado. Her latest letter to the editor appears this week in the August 27 issue of LIFE Magazine.

In it she says, "I cannot fathom why you would waste six precious pages on such drivel (as a feature on Ann-Margaret on August 6 "After Ten Years, Big Success for the 'Sex Kitten') Big deal, who cares?"

"If you had to profile an actress at all, why not Annette Crosbie who portrayed Catherine of Aragon in the superb series, 'The Six Wives of Henry VIII'?"

Veronica Graeme, Lemon Grove, Calif.

Mrs. Graeme, who is in cash control at the downtown office of the San Diego Gas and Electric Co., has had two other letters published in LIFE. One was about the Viet Nam situation and the other was on a story concerning the movie "The Doll House."

She also had a four-page letter printed in PLAYBOY Magazine in which she explained why she was "fed up with Hugh Hefner" — PLAYBOY's publisher.

Why does she write letters? "I'm a letter writer from way back when," Mrs. Graeme said. I have a frustrated desire to write . . . so I write letters to the editor.

"There is the satisfaction of 'doing something'. So many people do nothing about the things that they react to.

Writing a letter is very little work and there is the hope that somebody may react as you do when they read it.

There is also the frustration of not having letters printed. "I wrote a letter to a local newspaper about the dog pound situation. The newspaper sent the letter back saying it was 'very interesting but too long'."

"Once in a while my husband (who is employed by Pacific Telephone) gets a little up-tight when my letters appear because he thinks they reflect his opinion. But he's getting over that."

The couple has lived in Lemon Grove twelve years with their two "bright children, 9 and 11" and she forges many more letters to the editor in her future.

Burglars Take TV-Stereo Set

Reindert Hollander, of 8855 Campo rd., Spring Valley, was the victim of a burglary last week.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the unidentified thieves cut a hole in the screen portion of the back door at the home, broke the window in the door, and unlocked it.

Missing from the residence was a combination Packard Bell television and stereo set and two large speakers. The burglary took place some time between 1 p.m. and 5:45 p.m. last Tuesday afternoon while Hollander was at work. The loss was valued at $1,200.

The DIMMER VIEW

GOP Convention, August 1972

The Republican National Convention, scheduled here August 21-24, 1972 will draw at least 25,000 people from all over the U.S. It will be held at the San Diego International Sports Arena where the Rockets once played but it will be more crowded.

There'll be 1,346 delegates and 1,346 alternates but they'll be outnumbered heavily by members of the press. There'll be 7,000 writers and broadcasters on hand to tell the story to the world.

The rest will be Republican functionaries and public officials together with the huge group which follows big events no matter where they occur — and of course, the National Committee people.

One of the key figures in the convention hierarchy is a young man known to many residents of Lemon Grove and Spring Valley. He is Ron Fuller who served as assistant to the County Board of Supervisors and as public relations officer to Supervisors Bob Dent and Henry Boney during the years 1964-68.

Fuller is executive director of the Civic Committee To Host The GOP National Convention. That's quite a title. He serves under Leon Parma, the committee's chairman.

Their headquarters are the Royal Inn, at 1355 Harbor dr., suite 1479, San Diego, CA 92101.

There are a couple of questions local people first ask. Can anybody attend the convention and what's the chances of getting a paid job?

No, only properly authorized people may attend and the possibility of getting a job at the convention is so slight as to be almost non-existent. A few volunteers will be needed, but that's about it.

About credentials for gaining entrance. You can try. Write a request to Eleanor Ring or to Tom Reed. Address them to the 1355 Harbor dr. headquarters and Fuller will forward them immediately to the addressee.

Right now the spotlight is on housing. Already in the works are plans for housing a diverse mass of people. Helicopter pads will be installed for those who must get to the Arena by that method.

No, we don't know who will fly in. We don't even know who's in the race. If you think you do, hold your nomination until the votes are in on the inflation-stopping action of Mr. Nixon's. And the outcome of his proposed trip to China. Failure on these two fronts might encourage different instructions to the delegates than those you now envision.

Then there are the press facilities. 100,000 additional square feet of housing under roof at the Arena site is needed to get the story into print and on the air. That's 3 1/2 acres of construction. At present the advance committee leans toward mobil units and probably that's what they'll get.

A chicken-egg situation at the convention is the one concerning lights, air conditioning, and power supply. Teevee demands so much light that the heat of the lights creates a problem. More air conditioning is needed to cut back the inside temperature.

The combination of more lights and more air conditioning requires new power installations. And those are just some of the problems being resolved by the advance committee.

A small professional staff is due to arrive here from Washington about Feb. 1. The first top official will be Wisconsin State Senator Robert Knowles who will make most general decisions. Howard "Bo" Callaway, of Pine Mountain, Georgia will arrive about the same time. He will make all housing decisions such as which delegates go where. Then Josephine Goode, staff convention coordinator, will arrive. It'll be this beachhead of bigwigs who'll be followed by others as the convention date nears.

Then will come the delegates. They will have been selected by precinct caucuses, mass meetings, county conventions, district conventions, State conventions, primary elections and a combination of these methods depending on the state they represent the rules:

Each State shall have four delegates at large.
Each State shall have two additional delegates at large for each Representative at Large in Congress. The District of Columbia shall have nine delegates at large.

Each State shall have six additional "bonus" delegates at large if it meets one of these four requirements:

1. It cast its electoral vote, or a majority of them, for the Republican Presidential Nominee in 1968
2. It elected a GOP U.S. Senator in 1968 or 1970
3. It elected a GOP Governor in 1968 or 1970
4. It elected a Republican majority of the State's membership in the U.S. House of Representatives in 1968 or 1970.

Delegates at large for the following shall be: Puerto Rico, 5; Virgin Islands, 3, and Guam, 3.

Each Congressional District shall have one delegate if it cast at least 4,000 votes for 1. The Republican Presidential Nominee in 1968, or 2. The Republican Nominee for Congress in 1970.

Each Congressional District shall have one delegate if it cast at least 12,500 votes for the Republican Presidential Nominee in 1968 or the Republican Nominee for Congress in 1970. Caring for 25,000 for two days may seem to be a gigantic task — as it is indeed.

But let's not forget that at the San Diego stadium nearly twice that many are parked, seated, fed, beered and sent home in their own cars on a football Saturday with such expediency that a 45-minute wait at the exit gates now becomes almost traumatic.

Mail Bag

Dear Editor,

Last Friday I had a visit from friendly Federal Agent Rodriguez and assistant of the Internal Revenue Service. They heard I had performed Midwife services at 3,500 births for $1,000 each, yielding an income of 3,500,000, which I had failed to declare.

While the multiplication of these figures is indeed accurate, the life of real humans is not so simplistic. For those who write me how to become a (get-rich-quick) Midwife, may I humbly relate the facts.

As in many a profession, a Midwife may have to start out by offering one's services free, if one can find clients willing to be practised on by a Midwife inexperienced in home deliveries. That is, after hospital training of 1,000 births at a nominal internship stipend, preceded by years of exorbitant pre-med college, if one maintains straight A-plus grades.

Twenty years later, around one's 3,500 delivery, a favorable clientele might offer $1,000 a delivery, if the Midwife has a 100% successful record of no infant or maternal deaths, no hemorrhaging, flesh tears or other complications or ambulance cases, without anesthesia, episiotomy, forceps, cesarian, induction, etc.

Differential and integral calculus, or the mathematics of changing rates, beyond the average IRS fed, thus yields a lifetime income of about $5,000 yearly on an average, up to the 3,500th birth; and $10,000 yearly from there on, as old age lessens the number of births a Midwife handles. This does not include deserving cases done free, such as sub-teenage mothers.

Huge Pipe Organ Now Being Used

The huge Aeolian pipe organ which was once housed in the First Unitarian Church in San Diego has been reinstalled at the United Church of Christ at 2770 Glebe Rd. in Lemon Grove and is now being used in worship services.

It is the result of nearly two years work by a small devoted group of workers who appreciate the value of genuine pipe music who have dubbed themselves "The Superior Organ Company."

On January 1, 1970, congregation members started moving the organ to its new home. The instrument was in need of repair due to deterioration of many of its hundreds of pneumatic valves.

Under leadership of Frank Kueter, church organist, the "Superior Organ Company" took on the task of restoring the organ. Four months they worked on replacing worn pneumatics, repacking air seals, reconnecting the console and refinishing it, and general reconstruction of the many intricate mechanisms vital to organs. Then the pipes were "re-planted on their chests and tuning and regulating began under the guidance of William E. Ginder, organ architect.

The largest task was providing adequate chambers to house the instrument and give it expression. No such rooms existed in the church and due to the building's unusual structure in the round, careful plans were necessary to insure proper speech from the pipework.

Under direction of Newell J. Allen, complete organ chambers were constructed following an original design by local architect William Wilkinson.

The organ has two keyboards and 29 ranks of pipes. The 1700 pipes in the organ range in size from 16 feet long to a quarter inch. A $3,000 set of Deagan cathedral chimes are presently being added.

Future plans include a new three manual console and two new "Baroque" divisions to complement the existing Romantic voices. When complete the organ will contain five divisions and over fifty ranks which will be capable of playing any organ music ever written with all the solitude or power originally intended.

All labor and monies for materials have been donated by members and friends of the church.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

Learning is a significant and universal trait. "Aprender" means "to learn" in Spanish. We may say "ye aprende" for "I learn" or "el aprende" for "he learns." If we wish to say "one learns" we may place the reflexive "se" (oneself) in front of "aprende" to construct "se aprende." Thus "se aprende facilmente" means "one learns easily."

"Come se aprende?" is translated "How does one learn?" This may be explained by adding "hablar" (to speak), "escribir" (to write), or "leer" (to read). With these additional infinitives we may construct phrases like "Come se aprende escribir?" (How does one learn to write?) or "Come se aprende leer?" (How does one learn to read?)

"Donde se aprende?" means "Where does one learn?" There may be many answers to this question. Some suitable ones might be "Se aprende en la escuela." (One learns in school), "Se aprende en la oficina." (One learns in the office), and "Se aprende en la casa." (One learns at home.)

"Cuante se aprende?" (How much does one learn?) might be an important question. It might have a positive or negative response. For example, we might say "Se aprende mucho." (One learns a lot.) or "Se aprende muy poco." (One learns very little.)

"Cuande se aprende?" is translated; "When does one learn?" This may best be answered with "Se aprende cuando uno presta atencion," which means, "One learns when one pays attention."

As we have mentioned, learning is a universal trait. It is that capability which makes us more human. The more we learn, the more human we can become. The practice phrases listed below offer an opportunity to learn more Spanish. Try them with the aid of the record heard on 276-2762.

Important Phrases: Say "Come se aprende?" (KOH-meh seh ah-PREHN-deh) for "How does one learn?" Say "Se aprende con la practica." (seh ah-PREHN-deh kohn lah PHAHK-tee-kah) for "One learns with practice."

Say "Donde se aprende?" (DOHN-deh seh ah-PREHN-deh) for "Where does one learn?"

Say "Se aprende en la escuela." (seh ah-PREHN-deh eh lah eh-schee-EH-lah) for "One learns in school."

Say "Se aprende facilmente?" (seh ah-PREHN-deh see-MEHN-teh) for "Does one learn easily?"

Say "A veces." (ah VEH-sehs) for "Sometimes."

Hooper Gets Grant

Dr. John Hooper, professor of economics at the University of California, San Diego, has been awarded a Ford Foundation faculty research fellowship in economics.

Hooper is one of two faculty members in the nine-campus UC system to receive the honor, and one of 33 throughout the nation. He will use his award, equivalent to a year's salary plus a modest research allowance, to undertake a study of "alternative models in econometric theory."

Let no one imagine that it is a strained and unnatural thing for one to pray. The contrary is much closer to the fact. It is for more unnatural for one not to pray. Prayer is one of the most natural of human instincts. Prayer is man's response to the divine will.

Weight Losses To Raise Cash For Heart Fund

A unique campaign to raise money for the Heart Fund was announced today by Al Cutler and Gary Bart, directors of Weight Watchers in Orange, Riverside, San Diego and San Bernardino Counties.

For every pound lost by a member of Weight Watchers during the month of September, the directors will pay one penny to the Heart Association in the county in which the Weight Watcher member resides. Members will not be required to contribute anything but the excess weight they want to lose.

"We think this is an excellent way to raise money for a very worthy cause, while at the same time encouraging our overweight members to try even harder to lose the weight that can cause heart damage," Cutler said. "Fat men and women are often beneficiaries of the Heart Fund."

"By encouraging them to lose weight, we think we are reducing the chances they will ever have to be helped by their local Heart Association and, at the same time, repaying the Heart Fund for money it has expended in the past to care for persons whose overweight condition has led to heart complications."

Cutler said he had no idea of the amount the campaign might raise. "We have never kept a month to month record of every pound lost in the four county area," he said. "We are more interested in the individual's progress than in the total weight loss but we do know our Orange County members have lost over 900,000 pounds during the four years we have been active."

Local Heart Associations provide research, education and community services for heart patients. The associations rely on voluntary contributions of funds and activity to carry forward their work throughout the United States.

He is survived by his parents; a brother, Sgt. Timothy J. Annis, who is serving with the Army; a sister, Jenette Annis, of the home; and a grandmother, Mrs. Olga Christianson, of San Diego.

PTA Highlights

Mount Vernon
Ten Lemon Grove children have received the Red Cross Recreators Water Safety Certificate as a result of the Mt. Vernon Elementary School PTA's annual Backyard Swim Program.

Thirty-two students participated in the swim which was under the direction of Mrs. Al Mitchell. Backyard Swim is held each summer by the Mt. Vernon PTA in conjunction with the American Red Cross.

Since its beginning in 1957 the plan has been responsible for allowing over 80,000 students nationally to complete the two-week course in pools donated by local residents.

Two area families each had two members pass the final examination. They were Pat and Jim Murphy, 8586 Palm and Albert and Gretchen, 2217 Lyndine.

Others were Debbie Shafer, 1510 Skelvine, Mike Kohanek, 8558 Palm, Estelle Barous, 2220 Lyndine, Lisa Archbold, 2729 Palm Lane, Colleen Helgeson, 8080 Haven, and Kelly Middleton, 7982 Palm.

Instructors included Mary Campbell, Pat Comer and Jean Middleton from Mt. Vernon and Mary Boone, Janet Sundstrom and Sharon Woodrow from Monterey Heights Elementary School. The Monterey Heights instructors were used because of a lack of volunteers from Mt. Vernon, according to Mrs. Mitchell.

Pools were donated by Mr. and Mrs. David Ackerman, 318 DiFoss and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harris, 2503 Mulder.

Free Job Training Classes Set By Regional Occupation Program

Thirty free job training courses for residents of San Diego County will begin during the week of September 13 at various locations throughout the County.

Sponsored by the Regional Occupational Program and co-operating manpower agencies, the courses will be conducted by several County school districts. Subjects range from key punch and tabulating equipment operator to welding and appliance repair. Some of the courses are offered in more than one school district.

Many courses are scheduled during late afternoon or evening hours and on Saturdays for the convenience of workers. Some courses end in January, while others continue until June.

Contracts have been awarded to the following school districts for the operation of ROP courses: Palomar Community College, Fallbrook Union High School, Poway Unified, Carlsbad Unified, Oceanside Unified, Vista Unified, San Diego Unified, Sweetwater Union High School, Grossmont Union High School, Grossmont Community College, Coronado Unified, Escondido Union High School, and San Diego Community College.

According to ROP Director

Lloyd Halvin of the San Diego County Department of Education, ROP courses are available to high school students, out-of-school youth and adults at no cost. Applicants must be residents of San Diego County and be eligible to attend a high school or adult school in the county. In most cases an applicant must also be at least a senior in high school or be of employable age at completion of the ROP course.

Interested persons may obtain application forms, a schedule of courses, and other information from the adult education or high school counselor's office nearest them or from the ROP office, 278-6400, extension 275 or 224. East County residents may call 465-3131, extension 214.

Halvin said that applications should be submitted as soon as possible. He added, however, that enrollment will remain open "into October, if necessary" until each class is filled.

Provisions for transportation to classes or reimbursement for transportation may be provided in special cases. Also, placement and employment referral services are provided for students who satisfactorily complete an ROP course.

Credits applicable to high school graduation and certificates of course completion will be awarded by ROP upon successful completion of a course. The number of credits awarded will depend upon the number of hours of class participation. A minimum of 60 hours of class participation is required for five semester credits.

The Regional Occupational Program was established in 1969 "to increase educational opportunities for youth and adults, regardless of their place of residence in the County." The 30 courses offered this year more than triples the number of courses taught last year.

ROP staff members in co-

Batchelder, 36, comes to Whittier from a similar position at John Muir College on the University of California campus, San Diego branch.

The new dean is concerned with the student's right to become a full-fledged member of the community. "I believe Whittier College students need the kind of personal contact which will enable them to convert activities, events and life on this campus into a valuable learning experience," Batchelder said.

"Today's students are in a prime position of learning as much outside as in the classroom, provided they are able to apply this knowledge in the proper perspective."

Lemon Grove Woman Named Employee Of The Month at PWC

A Lemon Grove resident is the first woman to be named San Diego Navy Public Works Center Employee of the Month. She's Mrs. Ann J. Lamb of 7160 Mount Vernon, Lemon Grove.

Mrs. Lamb is the Supervisory Accounting Technician and heads the command's Job Order and Billing Branch of the Comptroller Department. She makes her home with her husband, Jack Lamb, owner of Classic Swimming Pools, and three children, Michele, 10; Michael, 8; and Kristin, 6.

Her past excellence of work accomplishments has earned her the title, "PWC Employee of the Month." She was honored as a special guest during the command's Executive Board meeting last weekend.

She was presented the PWC Certificate of Achievement and special necklace attached to a replica of the PWC Insignia. She was picked for the honor from the PWC 1,600 Civil Service employee population.

She's been employed with PWC just over five years. She was first hired as a temporary employee, and later gained experience in the various Comptroller Department divisions including the job as secretary to the Comptroller.

She's described as a team-worker by her co-workers and is credited with inspiring others to greater team spirit. She is quick to call matters of critical importance, involving PWC, to the attention of her supervisors and insures follow-through action. She's been praised for her work excellence both by the San Diego commands serviced by the Center and her co-workers.

Her attitude and persistence in solving the daily problems of others unquestionably are vital factors in the overall "good will" of the Center, Deputy Comptroller Cal James explained.

"Mrs. Lamb is a dedicated PWC employee, exemplifying the model professional woman in government. She is also a devoted wife and mother to her husband and three children. Her untiring patience and devotion to duty is exceeded only by a strong will to do the impossible . . ." Center Commanding Officer, Capt. Ralph B. Grahl, Jr., said.

FAVORITE PASTIME — James and Steve Saeugling, advisors to the group of scouts, relax for a moment to indulge in some fried trout, caught by one of the scouts, The scouts, along with their advisors, packed away some 40 pounds of trout during the expedition, along with another 600 pounds of food brought along on the trip. Between meals, the scouts managed to find time to build a raft to cruise around the lake, go on nature hikes, bathe in nearby hot springs, and play chess.

SV Merchants' Association To Receive Cans

In an effort to help reduce litter in San Diego, a local shopping center merchants' association has joined Alcoa's "Yes We Can" aluminum can reclamation and recycling program.

The Spring Valley Shopping Center will pay the public 10c a pound for aluminum cans Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The Merchants' Association will operate the "Yes We Can" center on a non-profit basis as a public service. Since the inception of the "Yes We Can" San Diego program in September, 1970, more than 950,000 pounds of aluminum cans have been recycled, representing about 30 percent of all the aluminum cans sold in San Diego County during this period.

Jack Easton, San Diego "Yes We Can" coordinator, said: "With the cooperation of public spirited citizens like the members of the Spring Valley Merchants' Association — the "Yes We Can" program has doubled our expectations for success. San Diego citizens and businessmen have proven that the free enterprise system can help solve the litter and solid waste problem."

Other "Yes We Can" centers are: College Grove Shopping Center, Grossmont Shopping Center, Mission Valley Shopping Center, and Farrel's Ice Cream Parlours (where ice cream is exchanged for cans).

Stewart Encourages Scientific Exchanges

Dr. Robert E. Stewart, the Veterans Administration official responsible for developing and supplying prosthetic and sensory aids for veterans, conferred in Europe recently with leading French, German and Austrian authorities to encourage a more free exchange of scientific information on orthotics and prosthetics.

niques and functional rehabilitation to be held in Vienna, Austria, March 1973.

Dr. Stewart also attended the German National Prosthetic and Orthotic Association meeting in Bonn, Germany, in an effort to interest German participation in the exchange of scientific information and scientists in prosthetics.

'Victory Canteen' Due At Off-Broadway Theatre

By Lynn Jones

After a successful six-month run in Los Angeles, the musical comedy, "Victory Canteen," will be the next production taken on by Vincent Miranda at his Off Broadway Theatre.

The show is set to open a limited engagement September 17. "Victory Canteen" is a USO canteen servicing servicemen during World War II. Its star is Patty Andrews who, with her two sisters, formed the most popular singing group of the era.

The musical comedy will have a cast of 14 for its pre-Broadway production at the Off Broadway. The music will be by the Sherman Brothers, who scored the motion picture hit "Mary Poppins." Make reservations now at the Off Broadway, 3rd and F Street, or call 235-6535.

A one-act play set during the time in history when Americans were still exploring the United States for a place to start a new life will open Saturday at the El Sombrero Restaurant in La Jolla.

"Tombstone: An Illiad of America" is set in Tombstone, Arizona, the last uninhabited area in the country. It was the town that had the last big silver strike and provided the last chance for pioneers to settle down.

The show will be directed by Todd Blakesley. The cast includes Ted Reed, MaryLou Reed, Dudley Graham, Bryon La-Due, Gordon Douglas, Gloria Foster, Jackie Townsend, and Blakesley. They are all San Diego area actors.

The show will be presented at 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. It is one of a series sponsored by the San Diego Guild of Puppetry.

Three Dog Night will be appearing with the Afro rock ensemble, Osibisa, Sunday at 8 p.m. in the San Diego Sports Arena.

The group mixes guitar, drums and bass combinations with the flugel horn, timbales, trumpet, baritone sax, flute, kabasa and a variety of other instruments. Leader Teddy Osei says their music is a combination of Western and African forms.

Osibisa will be getting its first exposure to American pop audiences on the current tour.

Three Dog Night, who has such hit singles as "Easy to Be Hard" and "El's Coming," has as its assets vocalists Cory Wells, Danny Hutton, and Chuck Negron. To back them up are lead guitarist Mike Allsup, bassist Joe Schermie, keyboard man Jim Greenspoon, and drummer Floyd Sneed.

Buffalo Born At S.D. Zoo

An animal considered the most dangerous of African mammals by some experts was recently born at the San Diego Zoo and is now on exhibit.

The new baby, a Cape buffalo named "Betty," will have a fierce temperament and long curved horns at maturity. The fearlessness of the Cape buffalo makes it especially dangerous when encountered in its native habitat, according to zoologists.

But the youngster is hardly forbidding at the tender age of 11 days. Although she will someday reach a weight of 1500 pounds and stand five feet tall, she is now barely 30 inches high and weighs 60 pounds.

The Cape buffalo is not rare in Africa, but its unpredictable temperament makes it difficult to keep in zoos. Betty's birth was the first at the San Diego Zoo since 1969 and brought the zoo's total of the species to four — one male and three females.

The Cape buffalo is a member of the wild cattle family which also includes the Asian water buffalo and the American bison. It lives on the plains of southern and Eastern Africa and thrives on the abundant grasses of the area. In captivity, the adult diet consists of hay and food in pellet form.

Road Signs To Use Pictures

Signs that tell drivers what to do through pictures instead of words will soon become commonplace on California state highways.

The new symbol signs are intended for international use and should be of particular value to non-English speaking motorists in this country and to Americans who travel abroad.

According to State Highway Engineer John A. Legarra, the California Division of Highways intends to be doubly safe by posting a word message below each sign for at least the next few years so that drivers won't have to guess the meaning of the symbols.

At a pedestrian crossing, for example, the black silhouette of a walking man will be displayed on a yellow background with a separate sign beneath that reads "Ped Xing."

Above the sign "Slippery When Wet" the symbol will depict a skidding vehicle. The car will be black and the background yellow. Drivers will soon learn to associate this basic black and yellow combination with highway signs that warn them with pictures of such things as "Low Clearance," "Signal Ahead," "School," and "Deer Crossing."

All the regulatory signs will employ the color red to indicate danger to those who fail to heed them. Those that will be installed first include "Yield," "Do Not Enter," "No Left Turn," "No Right Turn," and "No U Turn."

Freeman, an Assistant Professor at the University of California at Berkeley, are recipients of the grants.

In making the announcement, General Rich said that "Issuance of these grants raises the list of Graduate Study Projects selected for support by the NRA Grant-In-Aid Committee to 10 this year, and a financial commitment of $24,797. These are truly outstanding projects conducted by young, vigorous researchers with a keen interest in areas of special interest to our membership."

La Mesa Players Plan 'Arsonic and Old Lace'

The La Mesa Players' version of the three-act stage play "Arsonic and Old Lace" will open at the La Mesa Playhouse, 8053 University ave., La Mesa, September 3. The suspense-comedy by Joseph Kesselring will play Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 p.m. through September 18.

The production, which will star Vic Nelson as Mortimer Brewster, is about Mortimer and his two elderly aunts who are in the habit of poisoning elderly gentlemen that rent rooms in their house.

The plot thickens when Mortimer finds out what his kindly aunts have been up to. The ladies, played by Margery Null and Jean Mackenney, are thinking all along that they are doing their victims a charity.

Mortimer's problems getting the wacky pair committed to Happydale Sanitarium are complicated by the arrival of his psychopathic brother, Jonathan, and his sinister accomplice, Dr. Einstein. Jonathan will be played by Walt Starr, while Einstein will be portrayed by Bob Campbell, who is also directing the production.

Another candidate for the sanitarium is "Teddy" Brewster, Mortimer's uncle who unknowingly helps his sisters in their evil deeds. Teddy, who thinks he is actually Teddy Roosevelt, digs graves in the basement while pretending that he is working on the Panama Canal. Don Crouch takes the role.

Others in the cast include Karen Pannell, as Mortimer's fiancée; Vic Pfeifer, as the Rev. Dr. Harper; Joe Harris, as Officer Harris; Dave Cownie, as Officer Brophy; Don Bland, as Officer Kline; Morris Maniscalco, as Mr. Gibbs; Jess Lynn, as Lt. Rooney; and Harry Cawnie, as Mr. Witherspoon. In charge of sets for the play is Bob Attlesley.

Admission to the production will be $2 for adults, $1.50 for students through college and senior citizens, and $1 for youngsters under 12.

SV Man Jailed On Drug Charge

A Spring Valley man was arrested on possession of marijuana charges last week after Sheriff's Deputies found two marijuana cigarettes in his vehicle.

Dennis W. Peterson, 22, of 1606 Highridge rd., Spring Valley, was arrested at 11:30 p.m. last Monday night.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the suspect was traveling east on Jamacha blvd., and the left headlamp on his vehicle was not operating.

Upon contact with the suspect, an odor of marijuana was noticed about his breath, and his eyes showed no reaction to a flashlight.

A subsequent search of his vehicle netted two handrolled cigarettes containing a substance that appeared to be marijuana, discovered in an otherwise empty cigarette pack, and one "roach clip."

Saints Re-invade San Diego To Try Faltering Chargers

Summer of '67. San Diego's ocean surf and Mission Bay. Sunny days and cool nights. It was the birth of a football team, the New Orleans Saints.

The Saints assembled in San Diego for their first training camp on the Pacific Ocean bluff of the Cal Western campus. They were a confident young group, adored and unbloated, fortified with such seasoned NFL players as Taylor, Atkins, Kilmer, Stickle, Cordileone, Stonebreaker.

There was another team training in San Diego, the one with territorial rights, the San Diego Chargers. There grew a rivalry between the Chargers and Saints. Scrimmages between the teams resembled wars.

New Orleans left its San Diego camp after the summer of 1969. Saturday night the Saints return for the first time for a pre-season game with the Chargers at San Diego Stadium. The Chargers have lost the last two games after winning the opener. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

San Diego and New Orleans have met twice before in pre-season games. The Chargers won, 10-7, in San Diego in 1969. The Saints won, 20-14, in New Orleans last year.

Both teams enter Saturday night's game hungry for a victory. The Chargers have lost their last two games — Minnesota, 34-7, and San Francisco, 28-17 — after beating Washington, 19-10. The Saints, rebuilding under new coach J. D. Roberts, have lost to Buffalo, 14-10; Dallas, 36-21, and Kansas City 27-7.

Another incentive to a good show Saturday night is the spectre of a roster cutdown Monday. The Chargers must release four players to reach the Aug. 30 league limit of 49. The Saints must cut eight.

Only three players remain with New Orleans, who were with the club that summer of '67. They are star wide receiver Dan Abramowitz, guard Jake Kupp and center Del Williams. But three other visitors this week have solid San Diego backgrounds.

Choral Club Sign-in Party Scheduled

Prospective members of the San Diego Choral Club have been invited to "Snoopy's Sign-in Party," to be held September 2 from 1 to 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Roger Townsend, 6845 Estrella ave., San Diego.

Club members, who will be clad in Snoopy's favorite colors, red, white, or blue, will attempt to show those in attendance that "happiness is singing with the San Diego Choral Club."

Entertainment will include selections from "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," sung by Mrs. Myron Schonbrun and Mike Biers, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Maschner, entertainment chairman. Biers is currently appearing in "Play It Again, Sam" at the Cassius Carter Centre Stage.

Chairman of the tea is Mrs. Townsend. Mrs. Don van Palthe will head the refreshment committee and Mrs. Fred Hixon is in charge of invitations.

Women who are interested in attending the tea as prospective members are asked to contact Mrs. Townsend or Mrs. John Woodrow, 7820 Canton Jr., Lemon Grove, 466-3924.

Demo Bigwigs In Forum At Fund-raiser

All potential candidates for the Democratic Presidential Nomination are expected to attend a fund-raising dinner October 15 at Hotel del Coronado.

M. Larry Lawrence, Southern California chairman of the Democratic Party said the event will be one of the most outstanding in Southern California's political history.

In addition to Presidential potentials, both California U.S. Senators — Alan Cranston and John Tunney — will be on hand. Secretary of State Edmund Brown, Jr. and Board of Equalization chairman Richard Nevins are scheduled to attend as are San Diego incumbent office holders in non-partisan positions.

Following the dinner a forum of all dignitaries will discuss the issues. A limited number of seats are available to the public on the basis of donations.

Democratic headquarters is at 505 Hotel Circle — 296-6387.

Tomorrow Is Last Chance To Register

Grossmont College is continuing to accept applications for admittance only through tomorrow, for the Fall 1971 Semester, and all applicants are urged to meet that deadline, according to C. Vander Poll, Registrar.

It is most important for all students to observe this date in order to avoid being unable to attend the college next year. The Office of Admissions will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. today and from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow. For prompt service and individual assistance, students are urged to arrive as early in the day as possible.

Child Care, Health Care Classes Set

The Red Cross Nursing Department has set up a class for expectant parents on all aspects of child care and prenatal care. The class will be held at Helix Adult School, 7323 University ave., La Mesa. It will start September 14 from 7:00-9:30 p.m., meeting Tuesdays.

The instructor will be a Red Cross Volunteer, Lynne Cornington, who is a registered nurse and a certified Red Cross Instructor. Anyone interested is asked to call 291-2620 to register for the class. This is an opportunity for all in the East County area to attend an expectant parents class close to their homes.

The San Diego County Chapter of the American Red Cross has scheduled a home nursing class called "Contemporary Approaches to Health Care in the Home," also to be held at the Helix Adult School. The starting date will be September 14 from 7:30-9 p.m. The class will meet once a week for twelve weeks on Tuesdays.

This class is open to the public and the Nursing Department is most anxious for interested participants to join as this is the first time a class of this nature has been taught.

New 'One-Stop' Permit Service Center Program Expansion Due

An expansion of service to help citizens cut through the red tape of doing business with the County was approved by the Board of Supervisors at its Aug. 17 meeting.

The program will be an expansion of the "one stop" permit service centers opened July 1 at building inspection offices in La Mesa and Vista.

Beginning about Jan. 1, county libraries will be used to house information counters which, using existing library personnel, would provide answers to as many questions as possible. An information referral system would also be initiated so citizens can reach appropriate county employees if librarians cannot provide the answers.

County Librarian Arthur Murray has endorsed the additional service the 27 county libraries can provide, with branches in Lakeside, Encinitas, Fallbrook, and Chula Vista starting the program.

The one-stop, expanded service and information programs came as a result of a drive by Supervisor Henry Boney to bring county government closer to the people. He also suggested a mobile information center to tour the rural areas and toll-free telephone service whereby residents could call County offices from anywhere in the County.

"We estimated the toll-free telephone system would cost approximately $250,000 to $300,000 a year, so indefinitely postponed that idea. The mobile information center gave way to the library possibility with its 27 centers presenting a 'mobility' by virtue of their dispersed locations. If this works, it will be much less expensive than a mobile unit," Chief Administrative Officer Fred Morey said.

The Supervisors also indicated they would give consideration to establishing a third "one-stop" permit center, possibly in the Lakeside/Santee area, in the 1972-73 budget.

One-stop centers provide applications for all building-related permits, including those issued by planning, building inspection, county engineer, and health departments. Those not requiring field investigation are issued via data-fax microwave equipment linking the centers with the home offices of the departments. Although cross-training of engineering, inspection and planning personnel provides considerable expertise, telephone hot lines can connect the public with more authoritative personnel at the home offices. "The only building related services which cannot be obtained at these centers are those that require lengthy and complex transactions, such as large subdivisions," Morey said. Before July 1, each department issuing a permit related to building had to be visited for approval.

Dedication Due For 'Look -- Don't Touch' Ecological Reserve

The official dedication of the new "Look--Don't Touch Ecological Reserve" which has been established in the San Diego-La Jolla Underwater Park, will take place August 30, the San Diego Recreation Department announced last week.

The reserve, which consists of the tide and submerged lands off Goldfish Point to the southern boundary of University of California land, encompasses some 514 acres and about one and a half miles of shoreline.

Dedication ceremonies will mark the climax of efforts that began a year ago, when, following dedication of the Underwater Park, Mayor Frank Curran appointed the San Diego-La Jolla Underwater Park Advisory Committee. Chaired by Dr. W. A. Nierenberg, Director of Scripps Institution of Oceanography, the committee conducted investigations which led to the conclusion that portions of the park should be preserved in its natural setting.

Strategically placed buoys, marked "San Diego-La Jolla Ecological Reserve: Illegal to take Marine Life," and shore markers define the reserve. The buoys are placed with 1,500 pound anchor and are lighted. Shore markers are located at Goldfish Point and 1.62 miles up the coast. They indicate the extent and endpoints of the Ecological Reserve's beach area. Other signs are located at Reserve entrances: the boat launching ramp at La Jolla; La Jolla Way, south of Beach and Tennis Club; Devil's Slide; Caves Walk-Way; Park Row; and Coast Walk.

Rules governing the public's conduct differentiate the Ecological Area from the rest of the 5,977 acre San Diego-La Jolla Underwater Park of which it is a part. Swimming, boating, diving and other aquatic sports are permitted in the ecological area. The removal or disturbance of any marine life, geological formation or archeological artifacts by any means or activity is prohibited. Enforcement of rules and regulations will be effected by the State Dept. of Fish and Game, beginning Sept. 1.

The "Look--Don't Touch Ecological Area" is seen as an opportunity for underwater sea life to be re-established and to preserve the nature beauty of the shoreline and underwater area of La Jolla Canyon. This is consistent with the San Diego-La Jolla Underwater Park Committee's conclusion that the native flora and fauna should be preserved for public observation.

The Underwater Park and Ecological Area comprise part of an effort by nations worldwide whose purposes, in the words of the Department of the Interior's National Park Service include: "(1) perpetuation of unique marine ecosystems, biological and geological feature and significant historical objects or sites; (2) protection of specific forms of marine life and their required habitats; (3) research and educational study of undisturbed marine environments; (4) recreational uses; and (5) buffer zones."

The public is invited and encouraged to attend the dedication ceremonies Aug. 30 and participate with Mayor Frank Curran and other dignitaries in another step forward for the preservation of San Diego's natural beauty.

Extra Hours Set For Labor Day Weekend

Extra holiday hours will be observed by the Orange Empire Trolley Museum over the Labor Day Weekend, Sept. 4-5-6, with streetcar rides being offered each of the three days between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The volunteer, non-profit museum provides an inexpensive family outing with its free admission and free parking. Picnic tables are available for the family picnic basket.

Established at Perris, 17 miles south of Riverside on U. S. Hwy. 395, in 1958, the Orange Empire Trolley Museum is the third largest display of its kind in the world.

Sept. 5 Is Special Day For Lutherans

In a second thrust at raising $1,500,000 for "Project Neighbor," a social concerns endeavor, congregations of the American Lutheran Church throughout the country have been asked to designate Sept. 5 as "Good Samaritan Sunday."

Funds raised by the special drive are used to augment a $500,000 annual appropriation by the ALC, originated in 1968, to alleviate national crisis conditions in community originated projects.

TAKING A BREATH — Joe Cahill, left, Susan Walker, Geoffrey Wilson, and El Cajon Mayor James Snapp pause for a moment to catch their breath after the excitement of Susan and Geoff's arrival at Lindberg Field Monday morning. Miss Walker will stay with the Hal Wallace family in La Mesa this year, while Geoff's new "family" will be that of Joel Albee, of Santee. The two students, who attended Goulburn Teacher's College in Australia, will attend Grossmont College this year before returning home.

Grossmont College's Exchange Students Arrive From Goulburn

Susan Walker, 19, and Geoffrey Wilson, 21, two exchange students from Goulburn, Australia, arrived in San Diego Monday morning, greeted by about 50 people at Lindberg Field.

Those on hand included James Snapp, Mayor of El Cajon, which is Goulburn's "sister city"; Joe Cahill, president of the Grossmont College Associated Students Organization, and the host families, those of Hal Wallace and Joel Albee.

The exchange program sponsored by Grossmont College and Goulburn's Teachers College, also saw two local students, Jill Fitzsimmons and Joanne Krantz, fly to Australia, where they will study this fall.

Under the program, all costs for Wilson and Miss Walker's education while at Grossmont will be financed by the college's student organization.

The first day in the United States for the Aussies was spent taking things easy and getting squared away with their new families. On Tuesday, they started a week of sightseeing, interviews, and familiarization with the college and the community.

Geoffrey, 21, is an education major who engaged in the intercollegiate sports of tennis, rugby, squash, and basketball at Goulburn last year. This will be his sophomore year at Grossmont.

Susan, 19, is also a sophomore and an education major. Her sports include tennis, swimming, and surfing.

Fall Plastics Courses Due At Grossmont

Grossmont College will offer a new plastics course this fall with Jerry Laibson, of Whittaker Corporation's Advanced Structures Division, as the instructor. He will present a review of non-metallic materials, material properties, methods of fabrication, testing standards, and adhesives.

Laibson's experience as Engineering Manager at Whittaker gives him background to discuss composite design, cost evaluation, tooling criteria, and many personal encounters with research into housing and marine applications and transportation products using plastics.

Two classes are scheduled. A day class will meet from 1 to 6 p.m., Thursday afternoon and an evening class will meet from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., Thursday evening, starting September 16.

WARM WELCOME — Mayor James Snapp, of El Cajon, was on hand at Lindberg Field Monday morning to greet Susan Walker and Geoffrey Wilson, as they arrived from Goulburn, Australia, under an exchange program sponsored by Grossmont College. The two Aussies arrived via United Airlines for their stay in the area while they attend Grossmont College. Grossmont sent two students, Jill Fitzsimmons and Joanne Krantz, to Goulburn under the program.
